

Great List of Bargains AT MITTELDORFER'S.

Splendid Values in
DRESS GOODS
for Monday.

Fancy Novelty Suitings, 64 49c Inches wide, $1.00 quality.
Fancy Zibellines, elegant variety of colors, 60c quality.
44-inch all-wool Broad Cloths, all colors, $1.25 quality.

Come Monday and We Will Prove to Your Satisfaction
No Such Values Elsewhere in

BLACK GOODS.
Two of the Newest, Most Stylish of This Season's Fabrics at Half Price.

44-inch black Broad Cloth, all wool rich satin finish, $1.50 quality, Monday, 79c
44-inch all-wool Camel's Hair and Zibelline, extra heavy, bright finish, $1.50 quality, 79c

Latest Things in
FURS.

72-inch Stole Ends, extra fine Scarf, big cluster of tails, regular $5.00 value, Monday Extra fine Isabella Fox or Marten Scarf, extra wide, 72 inches long, large flat Muff to match, regular $30.00 value, Monday, $9.98

The Balance of Our Big Stock of CARPETS
at Less Than Cost to Make Room for
HOLIDAY GOODS.

Must Have Space for the Biggest Stock of Toys and Fancy Goods for Christmas Ever Shown.

PETERSBURG SOCIETY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 28.—The Wednesday Music Club, whose meetings give rare pleasure to the members and their guests met this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Neacham for Miss Mary Webb. A very delightful programme was rendered from the works of Beethoven as follows:

Opus 26, No. 1. Theme and Variations
—Miss Mary Webb.
Opus 13. Grave and Allegro vivace—Mrs.
W. H. Mann.
Songs: (1) O! Thou Whose Beauty
Shines—Beethoven.

(2) The Sun Kissed the Clover—Clayton Johns, Mrs. R. A. Gamble.

Opus 10. Prestissimo—Miss Lee Booth.
Opus 14. No. 1. Allegro—Miss Louise Temlin.

Song—Daisies—Mrs. W. F. Drewry.
Opus 2. No. 2. Allegro Vivace—Miss Emily Mason.

Song—Sunset, Dudley Buck—Miss Josephine McIlwaine.

Concert Etude, S. B. Mills—Miss Beatrice Jones.

Violin Solo, Fantasie, DeBariot—Miss
Eleanor Jackson, violin; Miss Annie
Jackson, accompanist.

The guests of the club on the occasion were Mrs. James Claiborne, Mrs. E. B.
Paten, Norfolk; Mrs. W. G. McCabe, Jr.,
Richmond; Mrs. Thomas Bond, Mrs.
Webb, Mrs. Thomas Neacham, Mrs. J.
G. Rennie, Mrs. John Cooke, Mrs. Finch,
Mrs. A. E. Brown, Mrs. C. Hurt, Mrs.
Este, Miss Annie Jackson, Miss Eleanor
Jackson, Miss Lella M. Canfield, Miss
Louise Thompson, of New York, and Miss Beatrice Jones, of Baltimore.

A very delightful dance was given by the Country Club to its members Friday evening. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by quite a large number of the members and their friends.

Saturday afternoon the usual tea was given at the Country Club and on this occasion Mrs. Preston Roper was in charge. She was assisted by several young ladies in serving those who visited the club during the evening.

The Sixteen Card Club met at the home of Mrs. Gordon McCabe, Jr. Saturday morning and reorganized for the season. The members anticipate much pleasure during the season.

Bridge whist is becoming quite a fad in Petersburg this season. The interest in this game bids fair to approach that manifested in whist in Petersburg about five years ago. There are some of the best whist players in the State in Petersburg, and the number of good players is by no means confined to the men.

Miss Anne Rannetter Gill left Monday
to visit Mrs. George Bolling in Washington for several weeks.

Mrs. William Holladay, of Savannah, Ga., is the guest of the Misses Collin in Petersburg.

Miss Gerald Pryor, who has been visiting the Misses Gill, in Petersburg, returned to her home in Washington Monday.

Mrs. Harry Parker, who has been the guest of Mrs. Preston Roper, in this city for several weeks, left Monday for her home in Hampton, Va.

Miss Helen McGill Paige, of Berryville, Va., is the guest of Miss Helen Leavenworth.

Miss Mattie Trout, of Roanoke, Va., is

Just a Few of the Splendid Values for Monday's Selling in
TAILOR-MADE SUITS

Long skirt blouse effects, V-neck Broad Cloth and finest Cheviot mixtures, silk lined coats, dress or walking length skirt, $15.00 value, Monday, $9.98

Straight Front Models, strictly tailored styles, in all colors, $20.00 value, Monday, $12.49

Glance at These Prices.
JACKETS and WRAPS
for Monday.

27-inch Corset Jacket, velvet collar, strap seams, satin lined, $5.98

Elegant Kersey or Zibelline Coats, loose or semi-fitted double capes, in black, blue, tan and castor, $4.98

The swiftest thing in Midtown Jackets, $6.98

Our Leader for Monday in SILKS.

33-inch Black, fully guaranteed, Taffeta, extra good quality, worth $1.50, Monday, 79c

New Novelty Dress and Waist styles, $1.00 quality, Monday, 59c

72-inch black Broad Cloth, all
wool rich satin finish, $1.50 quality, Monday, 79c

44-inch all-wool Camel's Hair
and Zibelline, extra heavy,
bright finish, $1.50 quality, 79c

Latest Things in
FURS.

72-inch Stole Ends, extra fine Scarf, big cluster of tails,
regular $5.00 value, Monday
Extra fine Isabella Fox or Marten Scarf, extra wide, 72
inches long, large flat Muff
to match, regular $30.00
value, Monday, $9.98

The Balance of Our Big Stock of CARPETS
at Less Than Cost to Make Room for
HOLIDAY GOODS.

Must Have Space for the Biggest Stock of Toys and Fancy
Goods for Christmas Ever Shown.

PETERSBURG SOCIETY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 28.—The
Wednesday Music Club, whose meetings
give rare pleasure to the members and
their guests met this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Neacham for Miss Mary Webb. A very delightful programme was rendered from the works of Beethoven as
follows:

Opus 26, No. 1. Theme and Variations
—Miss Mary Webb.
Opus 13. Grave and Allegro vivace—Mrs.
W. H. Mann.
Songs: (1) O! Thou Whose Beauty
Shines—Beethoven.

(2) The Sun Kissed the Clover—Clayton
Johns, Mrs. R. A. Gamble.

Opus 10. Prestissimo—Miss Lee Booth.
Opus 14. No. 1. Allegro—Miss Louise
Temlin.

Song—Daisies—Mrs. W. F. Drewry.
Opus 2. No. 2. Allegro Vivace—Miss
Emily Mason.

Song—Sunset, Dudley Buck—Miss Josephine McIlwaine.

Concert Etude, S. B. Mills—Miss Be-
atrice Jones.

Violin Solo, Fantasie, DeBariot—Miss
Eleanor Jackson, violin; Miss Annie
Jackson, accompanist.

The guests of the club on the occasion
were Mrs. James Claiborne, Mrs. E. B.
Paten, Norfolk; Mrs. W. G. McCabe, Jr.,
Richmond; Mrs. Thomas Bond, Mrs.
Webb, Mrs. Thomas Neacham, Mrs. J.
G. Rennie, Mrs. John Cooke, Mrs. Finch,
Mrs. A. E. Brown, Mrs. C. Hurt, Mrs.
Este, Miss Annie Jackson, Miss Eleanor
Jackson, Miss Lella M. Canfield, Miss
Louise Thompson, of New York, and Miss
Beatrice Jones, of Baltimore.

A very delightful dance was given by
the Country Club to its members Friday
evening. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by quite a large number of the members and their friends.

Saturday afternoon the usual tea was
given at the Country Club and on this occasion Mrs. Preston Roper was in charge. She was assisted by several
young ladies in serving those who visited the club during the evening.

The Sixteen Card Club met at the
home of Mrs. Gordon McCabe, Jr. Saturday morning and reorganized for the
season. The members anticipate much pleasure during the season.

Bridge whist is becoming quite a fad
in Petersburg this season. The interest in this game bids fair to approach that
manifested in whist in Petersburg about
five years ago. There are some of the best whist players in the State in Petersburg, and the number of good players
is by no means confined to the men.

Miss Anne Rannetter Gill left Monday
to visit Mrs. George Bolling in Washington for several weeks.

Mrs. William Holladay, of Savannah, Ga., is the guest of the Misses Collin in Petersburg.

Miss Gerald Pryor, who has been visiting the Misses Gill, in Petersburg, returned to her home in Washington Monday.

Mrs. Harry Parker, who has been the guest of Mrs. Preston Roper, in this city
for several weeks, left Monday for her home in Hampton, Va.

Miss Helen McGill Paige, of Berryville, Va., is the guest of Miss Helen Leaven-
worth.

Miss Mattie Trout, of Roanoke, Va., is

SOCIETY IN WOODSTOCK

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WOODSTOCK, VA., Nov. 28.—The Corporation Commission has decreased the assessed value of the railroads in Shenandoah county $57,854.00. In 1902 the assessed value was $434,858.90, and is now assessed at $377,322.00. The difference was made by deduction of all of the rolling stock of the Baltimore and Ohio from the list.

Col. and Mrs. E. B. Stickle left here on Wednesday for Louisa, Va., where they were called on account of the extreme illness and death of Mrs. Stickle's father-in-law, Rev. L. A. Cutler.

Mr. Samuel A. Baird, of West Virginia, and Miss Emily A. Baird, of Woodstock, were quietly married on Wednesday.
Rev. R. C. Jett, pastor of the Episcopal church at Staunton performed the ceremony.

Col. R. D. Funkhouser and Dr. D. L.
Shaver were reappointed superintendent of the county almshouse and physician, respectively, by the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county, for the term of four years.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who was elected justice of the peace for Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the building of several bridges across the Shenandoah river at different points in the county. Among the matters before the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the next meeting, which will be held on December 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the obligations of the county arising out of the
building of several bridges across the
Shenandoah river at different points in
the county. Among the matters before
the Board was the question of purchasing
a book typewriter for recordation purposes, but this was laid over until the
next meeting, which will be held on De-
cember 31.

Mr. J. A. Dysart, of Woodstock, who
was elected justice of the peace for
Johnston magistrate district, enjoys the
distinction of being elected to the office
without the expenditure of one cent towards his election. The other candidates' expenditures run from 64 cents to $135.

Dr. Edward Koontz, of Salem, Va., is
the guest of his parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Geo. W. Koontz, of Woodstock.

The third annual board of Hose
Company No. 1, of Woodstock, which is
being held in the clubhouse this
week, is meeting with splendid success.
Large crowds attending it each night.

The annual meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county was
held on Tuesday, with the full membership present. A large amount of
business was transacted before the Board was adjourned. All of the fox, hawk
and sheep claims were allowed, and arrangements were made to meet the ob-